PROJECTS

- AI Report Generating Agent 2024
  ~ Developed an AI-powered report-generating agent leveraging Llama and full-stack development.
  - Tools & Technologies Used: Python, Llama, React.js, Flask, MongoDB
  - Developed an AI-powered report-generating agent using Python, Llama, React.js, Flask, and MongoDB. This application dynamically generates reports from structured and unstructured data based on natural language queries, integrating with various APIs and databases. It efficiently processes large datasets and exports customizable reports in formats like PDF, complete with rich visualizations. This project highlights my proficiency in AI/ML and web development, as well as my ability to deliver comprehensive, data-driven solutions.
  - Qualified to the Semi-Finals of the 100x Engineers Buildathon 2024
- NoteRIT Branch Portal Development 2024
  ~ Collaborated on creating NoteRIT, a centralised study platform for the AI & Data Science and AI & Machine Learning departments.
  - Tools & Technologies: React.js, Vercel, Google Drive
  - I compiled and organised academic resources into a structured Google Drive repository, ensuring easy access and management. These resources were then seamlessly integrated into the website, providing users with a centralised location for all departmental materials. Additionally, I assisted in designing an intuitive user interface to enhance user experience and deployed the application using Vercel for optimal performance and accessibility.
